OSI Hungary collects clothes and toys for charity

Staff teams up with local foundation to help children in need

Bábolna, Hungary, August 2017 – Donations of clothes and toys were prepared and packed by OSI employees in Hungary who were happy to contribute to the project for this cause. The items were given to the Saint Francis Foundation which was established by the Transylvanian Franciscan monks to help orphans who do not have any family.

At the same time, the Secler Rush Off-Road Race was held in Csíksomlyó, Transylvania. The patron of the race was the founder of the Saint Francis Foundation. Sándor Zsidi, managing director of OSI Hungary, took part in the event with his son and contributed the donations collected by the OSI Hungary team. "I was very pleased to give the donations collected by the Hungarian team," he said, "and it was great fun to complete the race with my son."

Following this, as the holiday season in December approached, the team organized a collection for needy people in the community. Food and clothing were donated by all employees of OSI Hungary.

The local government in Bábolna happily collected the boxes and distributed them to local families.
